AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Ho, hum! After that delightful peep back into the gay and carefree days of early Spanish California we enjoyed at the party of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Roeding, Jr., gave at the nursery Monday—why did California have to go modern?

It reminded us once more that it would be much more pleasant to loll on the grass and sip "the vineyard's juice", listen to the strumming of a guitar with perhaps a Spanish dancing girl around somewhere than to rush from one point of the compass to another pursuing this and that sometimes called progress.

But—on the other hand, it was a masterpiece of modern publicity. Delegates from 42 of the 48 States of the Union were given firsthand information about the climate, the beauty, the hospitality, the good food and the excellent wines of Alameda County—of Niles. Thanks, George and Mrs. George—until you are shown a much more commensurate appreciation for this flower garden you have planted here, our humble editorial orchids to you!

That a smile will get you a long way was proved by George Jorgenson who just arrived home from Irvington Monday fresh from hitch hiking his way to North and South Dakota. At one point on his trip, he signaled for a lift and the car whizzed by as cars often do and the driver gave George a thumbs down signal. George grinned in reply as it was all he could do.

A few minutes later the same car drove back and a lady said:

"When I saw that grand smile I made my husband come back, so jump in."

Irvington oldtimers are taking a great interest this week in two old newspaper clippings discovered when a board was removed from the Irvington Community Church. They are from the San Francisco Chronicle of 1898 and 1905 and were found by R. A. Griffin, contractor, who placed them in the window of the Weston Store.

The 1898 clipping reports the opening of the Curtner Seminary in Irvington with 30 pupils; a visit which the Durham family who still are prominently identified there, made to Santa Cruz; the low price of prunes at $25 per ton and the marriage of Miss Curtner and Mr. Zanker in Warm Springs. In Mission San Jose a Portuguese Republican club was organized.

The 1905 clipping contains an account of a three round practice bout staged by Jeffries and Corbett at Rowdennan Camp. Jeffries was reported in good condition, having just run four miles in 26 minutes near Boulder Creek.

GENO QUARTAROLI TAKES BRIDE IN SAN FRANCISCO

NILES — At a beautiful formal wedding held at the St. Peter and Paul's church in San Francisco Sunday night, July 2, Miss Angelina Del Carlo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Del Carlo of San Francisco, became the bride of Geno Quartaroli, well known Niles man.

The Rev. Father Parolin officiated.

Garbed in a bouffant, ruffled net gown with a long train and full length veil, the bride carried a lovely bouquet of orchids, gardenias, lilies of the valley and stephanotis. She was in contrast with her attendants, two of whom were dressed in blue net and one in coral. Their bouquets were of pink roses and delphiniums.

The bridesmaids were Misses Adele Quartaroli and Lola Fornicari of San Francisco. Maid of honor was Miss Lucy Del Carlo, sister of the bride.

Quartaroli was attended by Harry Quartaroli, a brother, as best man. Reno Quartaroli and Tello Quartaroli were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, at Corinthian Hall on Mission street, San Francisco, a reception was held in honor of the couple. There were refreshments and dancing.

While the guests were dancing the newlyweds slipped away with their destination known only to their closest friends. The groom is the son of Mrs. N. Quartaroli of Niles. The couple are now residing here.

Nurserymen of Nation Given Taste of California Hospitality At Roedings' Spanish Barbecue

NILES — It was a party that will never be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be present—the Spanish fiesta and barbecue given by Mr. and Mrs. George C. Roeding, Jr., at the California Nursery Monday afternoon, honoring the 300 delegates to the American Nurserymen's Association which has been meeting in Portland this past week.

Pervaded with the atmosphere of the old gay days of early California, Spanish songs and guitars, the click of dancing heels, the Chinese magician, the cowboy orchestra the charm of the old was combined with the modern touch of Jeanette Baird swooping down out of the skies in her plane to act as mistress of ceremonies.

Guests were met at the nursery entrance by George Roeding and his sons, Bruce, Sandy and Jerry, the fourth generation of Roeding nurserymen. Riding his favorite horse and attired in a picturesque Spanish and western costume, Roeding might have been an early day Don dispensing hospitality as has been done from the old Vallejo adobe for nearly 100 years.

Mrs. Roeding, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Baldwin of Sacramento and members of the nursery staff received guests at the Old Adobe where claret punch and California fruits were served al fresco.

After visitors had been given a bus tour of the nursery grounds, they gathered at tables placed on the lawn in front of the office where they enjoyed a bountiful banquet of barbecued steaks, served with locally grown corn on the cob, vegetable salads, Spanish beans and watermelon. California wines in individual bottles and red geraniums as table decorations added their respective bits to the occasion.

A portable stage furnished a place for the Spanish and Mexican folk dances and the novelty skaters. The famous Chinese ring trick and other works of magic were performed by Bill Letham of Pleasanton. Music was furnished by Jack Kohn's cowboy orchestra from Pleasanton with Miss Norma Hailey as soloist. She sang western songs and the theme song of the Alameda County Fair composed by Kohn.

Miss Jeannette Baird, NBC artist and editor of the Women's Magazine of the Air, arrived in her plane to take over the microphone and assist Mr. Roeding as master of ceremonies. She brought with her Jimmy Hendrickson of the San Francisco air drome, late of China, who has returned to the Bay section to start a flying school for "women only".

Among the honor guests introduced was one well known in Niles when he was with the California Nursery Company here several years ago—Elmer Gould, now deputy chief of the division of horticulture for the Golden Gate Exposition.

Other honor guests were Dr. John McLaren, superintendent of the Golden Gate Park; Miss Alice Eastwood; Harlan P. Kelsey of Boxford, Mass., and C. O. Sieven-thaler of Dayton, Ohio, past presidents of the American Association of Nurserymen; Chet Marshall, of Arlington, Nebraska, retiring president; Ray Hartman of San Jose, chairman of the California committee; Richard P. (Dick) White, of Washington, D. C., executive secretary;

Howard Gilkey, manager of the California Spring Garden Show, recently back from London—(what California lacks in the old world art of gardens, is made up by western "umph", according to Gilkey, who prophesied that California would become the horticultural center of the world.)

Also introduced were Bill Smart of Dundee, Ill.; Harold McFadden of Compton, editor of the "daily dirt", convention news at Portland; Larry Lane, publisher of Sunset Magazine; Howard Fisher of Ontario, Canada and others.

The delegates to the Portland convention, most of whom have been in the Bay section this week represented 42 of the 48 States in the Union. They spent Monday morning at Big Basin where luncheon was served and on Tuesday were special guests at Treasure Island.

Enthusiastic comments were heard from the visitors regarding hospitality, its "God-given arboretum," and particularly the day planned by the Roedings in Niles.

WRECKED CAR ENDS CHASE FOR PAIR OF ILLEGAL HUNTERS

NILES — A wild ride over the crooked Calaveras Dam road preceded the arrest of three illegal deer hunters this week with County Game Warden Fred Rogers of Centerville in the chase.

Henry C. Mora, J. D. Mora and Eugene Bareillas of Palo Alto were caught when their new sedan went off the road and was wrecked following a five mile 70 mile an hour chase. Assisting in the capture were Dan McCarthy and Jerome deLopez, San Francisco Water Department employees.

Brought before Judge J. A. Silva at the Niles Justice Court, the three pleaded guilty to two counts—possession of deer meat out of season and killing a spike buck. They paid a $100 fine each.

Automobile Injuries Fatal For Eldest Native Of County

NILES—Mrs. Theresa Richards, 83, oldest native born resident of Alameda County, died at the St. Francis Hospital in San Francisco on Wednesday, following injuries received in an auto accident on July 1.

The car in which Mrs. Richards was riding was driven by her son, Walter, and was said to have been struck by a machine driven by Mrs. Ellen G. LaClair, 37, of 123 Gambier St. Police said they would charge Mrs. LaClair with negligent homicide.

Mrs. Richards, a member of the Sandoval family, early residents of the Amador Valley, was born at Dublin, Oct. 15, 1855. Another pioneer, some times thought of as the oldest resident of the county is Mrs. Chriselda Bernal, 83, of Pleasanton. Mrs. Bernal was born at San Jose, five months after the birth of Mrs. Richards.

Theresa Sandoval's parents died while she was quite young and she grew up with the family of Augustine Alvizo at Alvizo. She was married to Israel Richards, pioneer resident of Niles who helped build the first railroad into this community. He passed away six years ago and two years later Mrs. Richards went to live with her son at San Francisco.

The couple first resided in Old Town and later moved to Vallejo Street where they lived for many years. To them were born three children, Walter and the late Dave and Phoebe Ford. Surviving in addition to the son are three grandchildren, George Richards now connected with the Oakland Airport and formerly principal of the Sunol Grammar School, and Bobbie and Alfreida Richards of San Francisco.

Mrs. Richards during her younger days was one of the most popular young girls of this section and during her later life won numberless friends though her many deeds of kindness and helpfulness.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon from the Berge Mortuary Company parlors at Niles at 2 o'clock, cremation to follow at the Oakland Crematorium.

TWO POPULAR FILMS AT NILES THEATRE

NILES — Two pictures that never fail to thrill an audience are billed at the Niles Theatre during the coming week.

"Confessions of a Nazi Spy" will feature Edward G. Robinson as the main attraction on the program for Sunday and Monday. A Bob Hope picture, "Some Like It Hot", will complete the bill.

On Wednesday and Thursday the glamorous talkie, "San Francisco" will head the show, which also is a twin bill.

MEET AT BARBECUE

NILES — The Alameda County Postmasters Association had a barbecue at Castlewood Country Club on Wednesday, according to Postmaster Edward Enos. A meeting was held in the music room of the hacienda. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Edith Pelle, postmaster at Pleasanton.

Tax Rate For High School Fixed Same As That Last Year

CENTERVILLE — The tax rate for the Washington Union High School district will remain the same as last year—37 cents—it was decided at a meeting of the board of trustees Wednesday night.

The total budget is nearly $6,000 less than last year because of a smaller building program but the operating expenses are about $5,000 more on account of increased enrollment. One teacher is being added to the staff for the science and physical education departments.

The budget will be submitted to Superintendent Edgar Muller and a public hearing will be held on Aug. 3.

The building program this year will amount to about $34,000, including a $26,000 WPA grant. This includes completion of the garage, bleachers, wiring, covered walks and work on the art room.

The total budget is $134,023 as compared with $139,991 last year. Anticipated operating expenses are $106,000 as compared with $99,000 last year.

Classes will open on Sept. 11, at the high school and on this date at most of the grammar schools.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE SHOWS FIRST INCREASE IN YEARS

Superintendent Edgar E. Muller has just officially submitted the report of attendance for Alameda County public schools to the State Department of Education.

The total average daily attendance for 1938-39 was 74,531, an increase of 163 units over the school year 1937-38; state enrollment has shown a slight decrease each year since 1932, and this is the first year to break this trend. Alameda County is the second county in school population in the state.

Superintendent Muller comments on the interesting fact that a decrease in regular day classes in the high schools is offset by increased attendance in special day and evening classes. These special classes are meeting a real need and students are taking advantage of the opportunities offered.

UPSIDE DOWN STRIKE

The nationwide strike protests of WPA workers against the new law eliminating prevailing wage policies on their projects might have occurred during one of Alice's adventures in Wonderland, for the issues involved are topsy-turvy. The purpose of a strike is to inflict losses upon the employer in order to win concessions from him. In this instance, the employer is Uncle Sam. When workers remove themselves from his relief rolls to strike they inflict no loss, but save him money by reducing his wage bill. If public sentiment favors the WPA strikers, Congress may be induced to rewrite its new law which grants the same average monthly wage to workers as formerly, but requires that all must work 130 hours for it. However, to keep this upside down strike clearly in focus, it should be remembered that it was not a rebellious Congress, but WPA administrators themselves who asked Congress to blue pencil the prevailing wage program.

How that program worked—or, rather, failed to work—was recently pointed out by WPA Administrator Col. E. C. Harrington before a congressional committee. On a typical project, a bricklayer was permitted to work 48 1/2 hours, while a hod-carrier's schedule called for 63 1/2 hours. On the one and same project, a plumber was restricted to 50 hours' labor, but his helper was scheduled for 71 1/2 hours.

According to Col. Harrington's findings, efficient work was impossible under such a system of staggered hours. Under the new provision, hours for WPA laborers will be equal. Congress considered this action fair. If it amends its decision, it will only be because the public has demanded it.

PORT OF OAKLAND MOVIES SHOWN

NILES Motion pictures of the Port of Oakland were scheduled for the program at this week's meeting of the Niles Rotary Club at the Hotel Belyor, according to J. A. McDonald, program chairman.
